WALK IN THE SHOES OF LAW ENFORCEMENT

For the first time ever, our nation has one museum that represents all types of American law enforcement. Right in the heart of DC, feel what it's like to walk in the shoes of police officers. Set in a stunning new museum featuring engaging, interactive exhibits, visitors will get an all-encompassing experience of the untold stories that have shaped our nation. Hands-on exhibits help visitors feel what serving in law enforcement is really like — an experience you cannot get anywhere else.

CONVENIENT LOCATION

The National Law Enforcement Museum at the Motorola Solutions Foundation Building is an easy stop for tour operators, suitable for large groups, and located in Judiciary Square — just blocks from the National Mall and numerous DC landmarks.

There is easy access to Metro, bus parking, and many dining options nearby.

OPENING FALL 2018

National Law Enforcement Museum
at the Motorola Solutions Foundation Building

Get the real, behind-the-scenes law enforcement experience at the largest, most comprehensive museum representing all aspects of American law enforcement.

DON'T JUST SEE IT. EXPERIENCE IT.

At the National Law Enforcement Museum at the Motorola Solutions Foundation Building, visitors won't just see what it's like to be in law enforcement — they'll experience it. We're committed to connecting visitors to all parts of American law enforcement — past, present, and future — through exciting exhibits that put you right in the shoes of officers.

Interactive

The Museum is designed with hands-on exhibits that give you the ultimate law enforcement experience. Take the Case gives visitors the critical thinking and forensic science skills law enforcement uses to find evidence, analyze clues, and ultimately crack the case.

To Serve and Protect gives an eye-opening look at key law enforcement initiatives that go far beyond the everyday responsibilities you might normally expect from officers.

Immersive

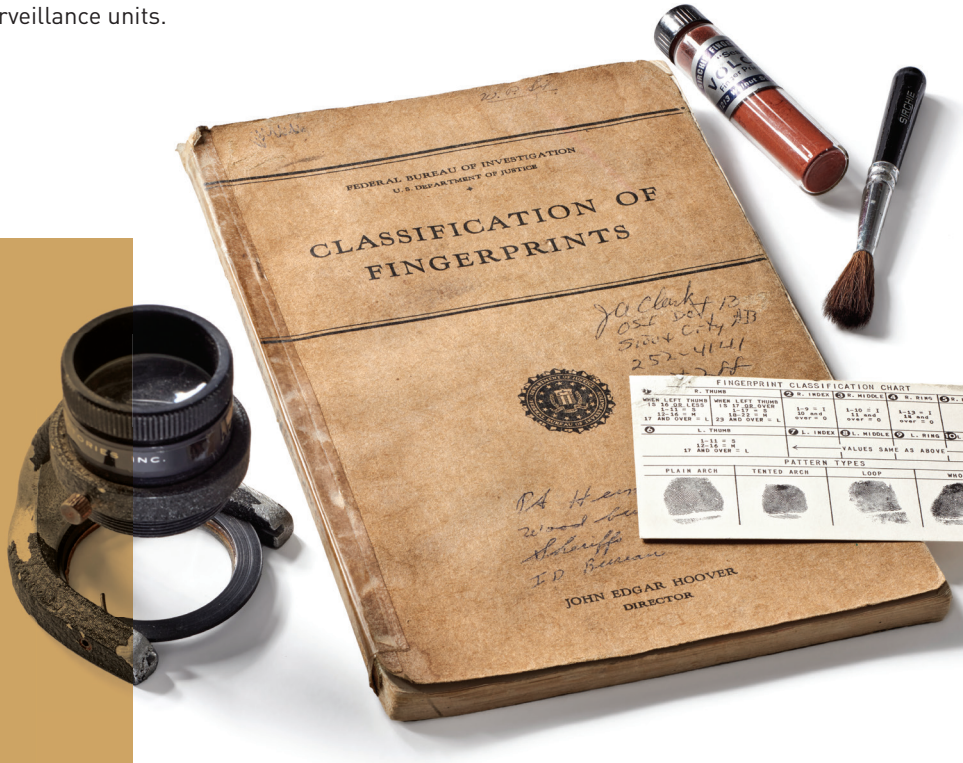
We want visitors to know exactly what it feels like to be in law enforcement. 911 Emergency Ops throws you into some of law enforcement's most stressful situations as you take on the critical role of an emergency dispatcher.

Think you have the physical and mental capacity to make it in law enforcement? The Training Simulator will bring you face to face with some of law enforcement's most threatening and stressful decision-making situations.

Experiential

The Museum prides itself on teaching through real-life experience. Officers' Stories features some of the most memorable stories about life on the job, told by the officers themselves.

No two days on the job are the same. Being an Officer allows you to explore both the "everyday" activities of real officers as well as the highly specialized work of K-9, SWAT, Bomb Squad, and Undercover and Surveillance units.



COMMITTED TO EDUCATION

The National Law Enforcement Museum is more than a museum — it's the perfect place for kids and adults to participate in a variety of learning experiences.

Guided and self-guided tours offer a deeper dive into the world of American law enforcement.

The Museum also offers programming and events that will both educate and bring together law enforcement experts, academics, public leaders, and members of our communities to provide perspectives and share experiences on relevant law enforcement issues of the day.
